

We are drunk with the wine of gain;
The truths our fathers proclaimed of old
We smother with a high distaste.

And while the oustenger's rage we rue,
 Our sinners should not doubt to do.
 That the God who reigns over Babylon
 Is the God who is reigning yet.
 Would we tread in the paths of tyrants,
 Who reduce the tyrants to the dust,
 Who takes another's liberty
 His freedom is no loss.
 Would we win the sinners who have won
 Make ready to pay the debt!
 For the God who reigns over Babylon
 Is the God who is reigning yet.
 The realm of dyabolon said'st away
 In eloquent silence lie;
 And the devil's fate is the same to day
 That it was in the days gone by.
 Against all wrongs and iniquities
 We stand as witnesses to-day.

 She says:
 "I am about to become a mother
 again, and I have been troubled with the morning
 sickness and time. I could not get any break-

 ago I began taking

The right benefit is to be in the God who reigns over Babylon
 In the God who is reigning yet.
 The laws of right are eternal laws,
 The judgments of truth are true;
 Your grumbled masters, your oppressors,
 And look on the work you do.
 You bind with shackles your fellow man,
 Your hands with his blood are wet,
 And the God who reigns over Babylon
 In the God who is reigning yet.
 Largest Family on Record.
 Joseph Weyler's Life.

In the Harleian manuscript, Nos. 78 and 990, in the library of the British Museum, mention is made of the most extraordinary family that has ever been known in the world's history. The parties were a Scotch weaver and his wife (not wives), who were the father and mother of sixty-two children.

The majority of the offspring of this promisè pair were boys—exactly how many is not known, for the record mentions the fact that forty-six of the male children lived to reach manhood's estate and only four of the daughters lived to be grown up women. Thirty-nine of the sons were still living in the year 1690, the majority of them, about

It is recorded in one of the old histories of Newcastle that "a certain gentleman of large estate rode thirty-and-three miles beyond the Tyne to prove this remarkable story." It is Further related that Sir J. Bowers adopted ten of the sons, and three other "landed gentlemen" took ten each. The remaining members of this extraordinary family were brought up by the parents.

cures the worst cases. Everyone who has had the experience of blood diseases knows that there are no cures or troubles so obstinate and difficult to cure. Very few remedies are able to cure such real, deep-seated blood diseases as S. S. S. Goures, and none offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit. S. S. S. is not merely a tonic, but it is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the very worst cases, and routs the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily.

Mrs. T. W. Leo, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potassium which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the infernal flame, which was devouring me. I was visited by friends, had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I improved from the start, as the medicine seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble and force the poison out. Twenty bottles cured me completely." Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—Is the only remedy that is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no mercury, potash, arsenic, or any other mineral or chemical. It never fails.
